What is Luck?

Luck is a feeling that everyone experiences differently. Maybe there has been something nice that happened like a nice meeting with friends. Luck is in this situation an intense but often short lasting feeling. There are also different types of luck as well. Some are long lasting this type of luck is what you get when you are surrounded by people who make you feel good for example. So luck can be experienced in different ways which changes depending on how you feel about the world, what you experience and what you feel has importance.
